DETAILED ACTION

Supplemental Notice of Allowability

1. This supplemental notice of allowability is being submitted by the examiner in order to correct an informality within the claims.

Amendment

2. Receipt is acknowledged of the amendment filed 19 June 2006.

Terminal Disclaimer

3. The terminal disclaimer filed on 19 June 2006 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded.

Examiner's Amendment

4. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in an interview correspondence with Pascale Hair, Patent Assistant to Kia Silverbrook, on 23 August 2006.

The application has been amended as follows:

In the claims:

Regarding claim 8, line 7: The phrase "face; and," has been changed to --face.-- in order to ensure that the claim is grammatically correct.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claims 1-47 are allowed.
6. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The best prior art of record, U.S. Patent Application No. 2001/0035458 to Schum et al. (from hereinafter "Schum") teaches a method and apparatus for processing and determining the orientation of documents. Schum teaches that the orientation of an object is determined based on where a barcode on the object is located. However, Schum uses a document imaging system that images a document and then a system controller processes the image data to detect the presence of the barcode image, which is used to determine the orientation. Regarding the instant invention, Schum does not teach that the scanning of the barcode, and that information in the scanned barcode gives object identification data which is combined with position data and sent to a computer for the determination of the orientation of the object. Hence, the best prior art of record fails to specifically teach all of the steps of identifying an orientation of an object by sensing a code to obtain identification and location data. In addition, a proper terminal disclaimer was filed in order to overcome the double patenting rejection.

Hence the best prior art of record fails to teach the invention as set forth in claims 1-47 and the examiner can find no teaching of the specific face identification determining method, nor reasons within the cited prior art or on her own to combine the elements of these references other than the applicant's own reasoning to fully encompass the current pending claims. In addition, see applicant's reasoning in amendment/response filed 19 June 2006.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
